

HEARING PARTICIPATION CHANGE REQUEST

The claimant and certain employers are parties to a claim. Each party may have witnesses and representatives at a hearing.

According to department rules, the hearing is in-person or by video conference when parties are all in New Hampshire. These in-state hearings may be by telephone if no party objects, there is no credibility issue, and if an in-person or video hearing is difficult for a party because of illness, disability, prohibitive distance, lack of transportation, or similar reasons.

An out-of-state party participates by telephone or video conference unless that party asks for an in-person hearing or if all the parties have representation in New Hampshire. If the out-of-state party participates by telephone, the in-state parties may participate by telephone, video, or in-person.

Necessary equipment and services must be available to hold a hearing by telephone or video.
